

SUPERNOVA!

DAY ZEINTH, FRAGFTH, FLRALAG

Liam felt the soil below him with his six-toed feet as he sat in the backyard of his house. Liam lived on planet ZIGROTH which was flat. On the edges of his planet the gravity was so heavy that it would pull the people who lived there to the center of the planet. In the middle of it there was almost no gravity at all and you could jump up to 50ft up in the air. As he sat on the ground he noticed he started to get very hot. He thought it was nothing but he was soon to be corrected.

DAY ZEINTH, SQUEIGZ, FLRALAG

It got even hotter, and hotter, and HOTTER! And the sun got smaller and smaller. Then little balls of fire started falling from the sky. The people who lived ZIGROTH started to worry. Liam looked up and realized that this was really not normal. And then he thought he saw something, it looked like a huge meteor shower.

DAY ZEINTH, ZSCARW, FLRALAG

Liam knew what the meteor shower was but he couldn't remember. Until the huge meteors started plummeting towards their planet and then he remembered what it was, and he called out as loud as he could “SUPERNOVA!!” He knew he only had about ten minutes to evacuate the planet. So he decided to jump off the side of the planet. He started to run as fast as he could; after about 7 minutes of running he was there. Then he thought to himself, I would die anyway, and he jumped off of his planet. Then he looked up and a few minutes later he saw the planet get hit by the supernova. And then, he fainted.

NOVEMBER, 19, 2014

Liam woke up with a pain in his back. He tried to remember what happened to his planet. He remembered it exploding but he came to the conclusion it was all a dream. Then he got up and looked around. He noticed he was a lot heavier than usual, but he thought that he was just on the heavier side of the planet. So, he started to walk around, then he realized that the planet was a lot different than usual. The sky was blue instead of pink and the plants were a lot smaller. So he decided to go back to the middle of the planet, where he thought he lived. And the gravity didn't change. Then he thought what if my planet really did get destroyed.

NOVEMBER 20 2014

Liam watched the sunrise come up that morning wondering what it was. He had never seen a sunrise because his planet didn't have one. His planet pretty much had 1 big on and off switch even though that was the sun. After a while of walking around he realized he was a lot bigger than everybody else and he looked different too. But not too different. He realized that this wasn't his planet at all, but some unknown planet that weird aliens could live on. He also realized he couldn't see the edges of the planet. It was like one big sphere. His lungs had so much more air in them. And the aliens spoke some strange language. Something that even the best discoverers couldn't uncover.

NOVEMBER, 21, 2014

Liam's body had changed and started looking more and more like the aliens. His skin changed from a dark blue to a nice tan, hair started growing from his head, and he had lost one of his 3 eyes. But he still had a tail and an extra toe on each foot and only 4 fingers on each hand. He decided since he looked more like the aliens he would try and learn their very weird language. So he hid his tail and drew pictures of what he saw and then showed them to aliens and saw what they said and how they reacted. After that he would try and see if he could learn what the word meant.

NOVEMBER, 22, 2014

He had lost his tail and his eyes had changed from red to blue. So he went outside and did what he did yesterday. But then someone pushed him down. He turned saw the exact same person pushing everyone down. Liam got mad and decided to do something about it. He went up to the guy and tried to push him down. But the alien didn't even flinch. He just pushed him right back. Liam, went, down. He got knocked out. When he woke up one of the aliens was helping him up and helping him walk, and then in his weird alien language he said "oh don't mind him he's just a bully who pushes people around. I'm surprised I haven't met you before. Hi my name is Brian what's yours?" Liam didn't know what to say so just said in the best alien language he could "hri me nume ese brean?" Brian just stared at Liam, and then saw he had six toes on each foot, had four fingers on each hand and Brian said "awesome act, but it's not Halloween." Liam didn't know what to do. He decided he'd let Brian keep speaking and he'd just look at his feet. But Brian didn't know what to say either so, as much as he didn't want to, he just quietly said "bye."

NOVEMBER, 23, 2014

Liam saw an alien walking into one of the buildings and followed it in. When Liam saw what the alien was doing he was overjoyed. The alien was learning how to speak the weird language from another alien. Liam came in and sat down. The teacher alien just looked at him, shrugged, and went back to his work. When Liam came out he knew what every letter was and he knew a lot of words and what they meant. He also knew how to respond to questions and do other things that involve the weird language. But when he looked up at the sky he realized the class had taken all day. He went to the playground. He fell asleep on the playground that night.

NOVEMBER, 24, 2014

Liam woke up on the playground. He looked down at his feet to help him think and noticed that on both of his feet he only had 5 toes. Then he thought back to when he was only five and he asked his mom a question. He had asked "what would happen if we had to go to another planet and there was some sort of alien, would they try and kill us or would they make fun of us for looking different?" He remembered his mom saying "honey, if that ever happened after 4 days we'd look just like them. We were created to blend in with another planet if we ended up going there someday. Since we live on a flat planet, we could get flung off of our planet any second of our life. We could get thrown onto some unknown planet at any moment. That's why we can blend in with other planets, dear." And then he looked at his fingers and he was happy, because his mom was right. So he happily went to his speech class and when he came back he was even happier because he knew a lot more about the weird language. And Liam happily went to sleep that night.

NOVEMBER, 25, 2014

Liam woke up and went to his speech class. He got out very early because he finished learning everything about the weird language. He missed his family so he decided to ask someone where he could find a family. He found a tall building that looked reasonable so he asked the people there where he could find a family and they said that they were an orphanage and that they could give him a place to stay until a family wanted him. He waited for a month til' his lucky day came.

DECEMBER, 25, 2014/CHRISTMAS 2014

Liam woke up that morning and saw a tree with some colorful boxes under it. As he started walking over he realized one of the colorful boxes had his name on it. Except his was the only one that wasn't a box. In fact it looked like a colorful piece of paper and then he remembered this was Christmas. The orphanage had been getting ready for this for awhile. He went over to the slip of colorful paper and when he read it he was very happy. Even the most happy he's ever been in his life. Inside was a note that said "congrats! You have been chosen by a family to be adopted. You will go to court with them later today and if all goes well you will be in their family."

All went well for Liam and he went to school, made friends and had a happy life on the exciting weird planet he had discovered.

THE END!
